DETAILED ACTION

The following is a first action on the merits of application serial no. 10/785,509 filed on February 24, 2004.

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of the species of Figure 4 in the reply filed on August 12, 2005 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The word "type" (i.e., rotating-type torque transmitting mechanism) is indefinite because it is unclear as to what the word is intended to convey.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 2 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sugiura et al ('086) in view of Dairokuno et al ('096). Sugiura et al discloses an automatic transmission having an input (12), an output (105), a stationary transmission housing (9), a first planetary gear with first, second and third members (3), a second planetary gear with a plurality of members (4), at least a first (C1) and second (C3) rotating torque mechanism between the input and the planetary gears, the first mechanism (C1) being positioned radially outboard and axially overlapped by the second mechanism (C3), the first mechanism having an apply piston (32) for engaging an apply plate in the transmission housing, the second mechanism having an apply piston (53) for engaging an apply plate in the transmission housing and a third rotating torque mechanism (C2) having an apply piston (47) for engaging an apply plate in the transmission housing, but Sugiura et al does not disclose a bearing disposed between the apply piston and the apply plate.

Dairokuno et al ('096) discloses a torque transmitting mechanism having an apply piston (35) for engaging an apply plate (13) wherein a bearing (47) is disposed between the piston and the plate (Figures 10 and 13).

It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the torque rotating mechanisms of Sugiura et al with a bearing disposed between the piston and plate in view of Dairokuno et al to provide rotatable support for the piston.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 5-9 and 11 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Claim 3 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

FACSIMILE TRANSMISSION

Submission of your response by facsimile transmission is encouraged. Group 3600's facsimile number is (703) 872-9326 before final and 703-872-9327 after final. Recognizing the fact that reducing cycle time in the processing and examination of patent applications will effectively increase a patent's term, it is to your benefit to submit responses by facsimile transmission whenever permissible. Such submission will place the response directly in our examining group's hands and will eliminate Post Office processing and delivery time as well as the PTO's mail room processing and delivery time. For a complete list of correspondence not permitted by facsimile transmission, see MPEP 502.01. In general, most responses and/or amendments not requiring a fee, as well as those requiring a fee but charging such fee to a deposit account, can be submitted by facsimile transmission. Responses requiring a fee which applicant is paying by check should not be submitting by facsimile transmission separately from the check.

Responses submitted by facsimile transmission should include a Certificate of Transmission (MPEP 512). The following is an example of the format the certification might take:

I hereby certify that this correspondence is being facsimile transmitted to the Patent and Trademark Office (Fax No. (703) 000-0000) on _____ (Date)

Typed or printed name of person signing this certificate:

(Signature)

If your response is submitted by facsimile transmission, you are hereby reminded that the original should be retained as evidence of authenticity (37 CFR 1.4 and MPEP 502.02). Please do not separately mail the original or another copy unless required by the Patent and Trademark Office. Submission of the original response or a follow-up copy of the response after your response has been transmitted by facsimile will only cause further unnecessary delays in the processing of your application; duplicate responses where fees are charged to a deposit account may result in those fees being charged twice.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
